ACTIVITY Moses Says

1. Moses Says

What You Need: No supplies are needed.

What You Do: Play “Moses Says,” a variation of the game “Simon Says.” Have the children stand facing you. Do an action such as patting your head, rubbing your tummy, or hopping on one foot. Be sure to say “Moses says” before doing the action. Do three or more of these actions making sure to say “Moses Says” before doing the action. Then mix it up and do an action without saying “Moses Says” beforehand. Watch for the children who do the action and then ask them to sit down. Keep playing until you have one child standing. Repeat the game until the children lose interest.

(Note: Depending on the age of the children, you may not want to make somebody sit out. Instead, you could just play and all giggle together when someone messes up.)

What You Say:

At the start of the activity: “Let’s play a game! Have any of you ever played the game ‘Simon Says’ before? Okay, this game is just like it. This game is about using your ears to listen and follow directions. When I say “Moses says,” you do what I do. But If I do not say “Moses says” then you do not do what I do. Does everyone understand? (Pause for responses.) Great! Let’s get started.”

At the end of the activity: “You all did a great job following directions. Did you know that God gives us directions too? He does! Today in our story, we learned about how God gave people directions and what happened when they followed those directions.
